Ambassador to England Called For Consultation

Nature of Conference Is Not Known But Is Believed to Pertain to Threatened Rupture Between Great Britain and France Over Reparations Issue.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) LONDON, Dec. 15.—Ambassador Harvey has been called home for consultation, it was stated today. He sails on December 23. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Harvey who will leave the preceding day for Madeira. The nature of the conference for which Ambassador Harvey is summoned is not known at the American embassy where it was said the message merely stated it was for consultation.

It is presumed the discussions with Secretary of State Hughes will cover the whole range of European affairs including the allied debts, reparations and kindred subjects.

WASHINGTON OFFICIALS CONFIRM THE REPORT (Associated Press Leased Wire.) WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Although State Department officials confirmed today the London announcement that Ambassador Harvey was called home for consultation, they declined to offer any explanation as to the questions which will be discussed. In the absence of an official explanation the impression gained currency that he has been called home in connection with the situation as to German reparations now threatening rupture with Great Britain and France.

CAROLINA BAPTISTS Wind Up Session (Associated Press Leased Wire.) WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Dec. 15.—The last day's session of the Baptist State Convention was featured by a small attendance, many members having gone home. A proposition from the City offering the convention $50,000 for a home for motherless children was received and referred to a special committee with instructions to report next session.

A memorial service was held before adjourning the convention, after which W. W. Cullum of Wake Forest read the long list of dead during the year. The convention endorsed the proposition to contribute $50,000 for the erection of a new Baptist college in New Bern.

MORRISON BALKS At Introduction Of Klan Topic (Associated Press Leased Wire.) WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Dec. 15.—State executives attending the conference of governors were turned from their discussions today by an inspection of minutes near Beckley, which revealed at midnight in the first flurry of debate which has marked the sessions. Prohibition and the Ku Klux Klan were the two questions which brought a clash of views when the meeting was thrown open for debate before midnight, after an address by Gov. Atcock, in which he called the Klan as a national menace. Gov. Morrison, of North Carolina, took the floor, was opposed to introduction of the Klan or the liquor subject. As two of the "toughest" questions before the country, Gov. Morrison said, he opposed their consideration. A conference which he believes should be devoted to an exchange of ideas of government. Particularly did he object to Governor Parker's proposal that the conference adopt resolutions of these questions or any resolution looking to uniform legislation of a police character.

Gov. Morrison further declared that he was dissatisfied with Governor Parker and Atcock on their proposed methods of fighting the Klan, which he said could not be legislated out of existence but could be met with legislation. As to Gov. Parker's assertion of liquor law enforcement and his favorable view of light wine and beers Mr. Morrison said he was astonished at what he described as being Governor Parker's willingness to surrender to lawlessness and his desire to fight for what he conceived to be lawlessness in the Klan on the other. Governor Parker rejoined that he did not concede his attitude on prohibition to be yielding to lawlessness. While he did not mean to defend the Klan, Gov. Morrison said he could relate many acts of benevolence attributed to the organization.

Rockingham Has Its Road Troubles

REIDSVILLE, Dec. 15.—This county seems to be having more than its share of troubles in the question of good roads. Some time ago injunctions were instituted against the county commissioners to keep the board from appropriating money for the hard-surfaced road to Leaksville-Spray. Still later similar proceedings were instituted against the State Highway Commissioners. Monday the new board of commissioners met at the county seat and refused to ratify the action of the old board which passed a resolution committing this county to a certain sum of money toward running the road via Berry instead of the Foulk Hill route.

Bandits Make A Quick Haul

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 15.—Seven men in an automobile robbed the bookkeeper of the First National bank of Darby, a suburb, of $10,800 today while he was taking a walk to Fells and Company soap manufacturers. Harry McKee, the bookkeeper, was shot in the cheek. The robbery was committed so quickly that a single bullet was all that was needed to escape. There was apparently no clue to their identity.

Broadside Fired By La Follette At Shipping Bill

Progressive Bloc Leader Criticizes Harding, Lasker and Others Who Sponsor Its Passage.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Opening the attack of the Progressive bloc against the administration shipping bill Senator La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, declared in the Senate today that the measure is contrary to the expressed will of the American people and that the action of the President and his sponsors is an attempt to force its passage at this time is an open challenge to the people and a violation of the trust reposed by the people in their delegated representatives. The Wisconsin senator denounced the bill in bitter terms, criticized the President and Chairman Lasker of the shipping board in sharp language, challenged the arguments made by the executives in his congressional message urging enactment of the bill and charged Mr. Lasker with having made an improper proposal to obtain the support of the public opinion of the country by a subsidy to those who do not believe a worse bill than this ever came before the Senate of the United States for its consideration. "It represents a policy that has been repeatedly rejected by the people of this country," the public opinion of the country is overwhelmingly opposed to it today. It simply means turning over the people's property to favored interests for a few cents on the dollar and taxes of millions levied annually in order to pay a subsidy to those who take the railroads and a gift of millions in taxes in refunds to the ship interests.

Reports Big Fire Loss By Tannery

Barclay Hamlin, insurance adjuster for large Philadelphia fire insurance company who is on one of his periodic visits to Danville on business, reports a fire of some consequence which took place December 2 at Augusta Springs, which has not been recorded generally in the press. The tannery of the Continental Leather company situated at Augusta Springs, which lies between Clifton Forge and Staunton, was severely damaged by fire, said to have originated from sparks from an electric motor. The fire loss is one of the heaviest recorded in any single fire in Virginia of recent months, the report showing this to be $200,000. The plant was insured for nearly a million and a half dollars.

Tennessee College Ordered Suspended

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) GREENSBORO, S. C., Dec. 15.—The University of Chattanooga was today suspended from membership in the Southern Inter-Collegiate Athletic Association as the first official act of that organization which began its 25th annual session today. Violation of the freshman rule was the cause given. Notice of the suspension was served on Dean Frank Hooper of the Tennessee institution after this morning's session of the executive committee. It was reported that action might be taken against other institutions reported to have used freshmen in some intercollegiate games.

Paris Women Beset by Poison Demons

PARIS, Dec. 14.—"Needle demons" is the title given to the originators of the latest crime wave in Paris which police reports show has been growing in intensity for the past two weeks until now dozens of women daily are being plunked with poisoned needles by unidentified monomaniacs. The terror began among the women Christmas shoppers in the big department stores, but the needle jabbers are now operating in auto buses, the subways and other places where crowds congregate and it is possible to inflict the injury and escape without identification. The police are as much mystified as they were by last winter's epidemic of dress and fur coat slashing, and so far no arrests have been made. While the needle points are believed to be poisoned, the effect on the victims is not serious, the women usually escaping with slight swellings and muscular pains.

Over Two Million Pounds Sold In City This Week

The Danville tobacco market will close for the Christmas holidays next Friday evening, December 22nd and will reopen on January 2nd. Official figures on the sales at auction for the week and for the season were submitted today by John Russell, secretary of the Danville Tobacco Association. These show that for the week ending yesterday, 2,008,914 pounds of leaf was sold for $395,273.13 or at an average price of $29.63. The total sales for the season, which brought up to 21,052,278 pounds for $6,761,553.28 the season's average being $32.10 per hundred pounds.

Boy Admits He Shot His Sister By Accident

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Dec. 15.—The three-year-old daughter of Walter Basom was shot and killed by her nine-year-old brother yesterday. The children were alone at the time at home and the boy at first said that he was passing in a car had fired into the house, killing the child. Officers took up the chase but failing to find any traces, they returned to the home last night and after questioning the boy he admitted he had shot his sister while playing with his father's gun. The sheriff has not taken any further steps.

BANNER WEEK FOR THE CO-OPS

CHATHAM, Dec. 14.—This has been the banner week in receipts by the co-ops, the daily quantity running around an average of one thousand pounds with indications that the receipts for the week will not fall far short of half million pounds. Prices are holding firm and farmers are well pleased and the anticipation of the second payment at an early date has added much to the good feeling. When the houses close for the holidays which will be during the coming week the quantity left in the hands of the farmers will be around thirty-five per cent. of the crop which has been one of the best in many years. The farmers selling on the auction floors are nearer through selling than the co-op members due to the rush on the part of the non-members to sell their crop early.

Sunnyside Home Is Now a Year Old

The Sunnyside Home, situated at the southern terminus of Virginia avenue had a pleasant and appropriate dual celebration of the founding of Danville philanthropy and of Thanksgiving Day. The institution was one year old on last Friday, December 8th, and while it already manifests indications of becoming a strong, healthful and useful institution, it is not yet able to stand alone, like some infant prodigy, but by the close of another year it is expected to have "cut its teeth."

All the progress of the Home is due to the wonderful help given to it by its friends, whose numbers are steadily growing, and whose beneficent element which has been a potential factor in its growth and in its satisfactory response to the needs which called it into being.

Among those who generously contributed to the pleasure and happiness of those comfortably housed and sheltered beneath its spreading roof are Mrs. J. E. Perkins, Mrs. George Watson, Mrs. H. S. Lanier, Mrs. E. M. Williamson, the seventh grade of the Schoolfield school, the Sunday school pupils of the College Avenue chapel, Miss Berta Bennett, the Harris bakery, Mrs. D. A. Overbey, Mrs. F. N. Burton, and the students and faculty of the Danville Military Institute. The bakery sent a generous quantity of fruit and cakes. Mrs. D. A. Overbey sent everything requisite for a bountiful Thanksgiving dinner and added a cash donation of $40. Mrs. Burton's beneficence took the thoughtful and practical form of providing and installing a hot water plant, a valuable and needed equipment for such a Home.

This institution is under the auspices of the Presbyterian churches of the city and suburbs, but it also has many friends and supporters from other churches of this community.

One of those residing in the Home is "Aunt Letha" Yates, a well known figure in Danville, who has been critically ill. She is now reported as much better. She is an estimable and refined gentlewoman, descended from the prominent Walters family. Her father was William Walters, a brother of Arch Walters, who was the father of Captain Arch Walters. Her mother was a Miss Ingram, member of a prominent Halifax county, Va., family. She suffered all the hardships incident to the civil war and tells interestingly of those days, how, while she persevered in her work, she would fill a skillet with the smoldering embers of the hearth-fire and place it close to the loom at which she was working. Mrs. Yates is now 89 years old and, having recovered from her critical illness, bids fair to celebrate the anniversary of her 90th birthday.

There are other noble and interesting characters in the Sunnyside home and not a few who add to its sunshine and that of its occupants.

By no means the least interesting and valuable feature of the home is the regular and faithful regard manifested by many for the spiritual welfare and happiness of the ladies who are domiciled there, the clergy and laity, being earnest and active in visitation and ministrations.

J. D. HANK, JR., IS IN THE RACE FOR ATT'Y GENERAL

J. D. Hank, Jr., of Norfolk, has announced his candidacy for the office of attorney general at the next Democratic primary. Mr. Hank was a candidate for Congress from the second District in the recent campaign, but was defeated in the primary. He has been living in Norfolk for the past nineteen years and is one of the best known attorneys of that city.

In August of 1917 Mr. Hank was appointed assistant Attorney General of Virginia and later when Mr. Pollard was called to other duties by the war Mr. Hank served as Attorney General through the unexpired term. John R. Saunders became Attorney General in 1918, having been elected prior to Mr. Hank's appointment, and when he came into office he named Mr. Hank his assistant and he is serving in that capacity now.

Girl's Murder Rouses Canada

(Special to The Bee.)

MONTREAL, Dec. 14.—The mysterious and unexplained murder at Quebec of Blanche Garneau, beautiful young French-Canadian girl, is on every tongue throughout the Dominion and has fanned into new flame the old discord between British and French in the Province of Quebec.

It has been debated hours in Parliament. It has cost the province more than $100,000.

It will very probably be the issue at a coming provincial election! Meanwhile a royal commission, headed by the chief justice of the Superior court, is probing the strange case.

More than two years ago the body of the Garneau girl, assaulted and strangled to death, was found. Police were baffled. No solution could be found.

John H. Roberts, editor of a Montreal weekly, charged the authorities with laxness, declared rumors had coupled the names of two legislators with the fact of the murder and offered a reward for a solution of the case.

Roberts was seized. The legislature passed a special act sentencing him to serve a year in jail. The act will become law when it has received the signature of the lieutenant-governor. Meanwhile Roberts is in custody.

Public feeling ran high. Appointment of a royal commission to probe the whole matter was demanded and granted. The commission now is sitting.

Just before the commission sat, Armand Lavergne, leading French politician, delivered a fiery speech, lauding the British and denouncing his own compatriots as "servile" and "cowardly."

With that the Blanche Garneau case definitely was thrown into politics. Both British and French politicians look for a hot fight over the case in the campaign preceding the coming election.

BLANCHE GARNEAU.

MASONS HONOR CHIEF MITCHELL

The attendance at the annual communication of Morrocco Lodge, No. 210, A. F. & A. M., held in the Pythian hall last night was the largest within the recollection of most of the present members, and the communication itself one of the most interesting, harmonious and enjoyable, from the standpoint of the craftsman. Naturally the feature of most interest was the election of officers for the ensuing Masonic year which begins on St. John the Evangelist Day, December 24th, or practically with the advent of the new year. The election resulted in the advancement of all the present line officers and in the selection as junior deacon, the beginning of the line of advancement to the mastership of L. F. Mitchell, chief of the Danville fire department and a popular, esteemed citizen.

Past Master J. T. Posey, a veteran of the civil war in this city, presided during the elections, and the retiring master, E. N. Oakes, was present.

While a spirited but always friendly aspiration for the deaconate enlisted and held the interest of the craftsman, the business of interest and disposed of. Owing to the time it was anticipated, would be consumed in the routine procedure and in the election of the officers, action on other business of interest was deferred until the next stated communication.

The full roster of officers selected and who will be installed on December 27th, follows:

Worshipful Master, Laban Silverman; Senior Warden, J. W. Wellman; Junior Warden, John B. McDaniel; Treasurer, T. A. Fox; Secretary, Capt. Silverman; Senior Deacon, J. T. Luther; Junior Deacon, L. F. Mitchell; Messrs. Fox and Jacob Silverman were re-elected to these offices. They have held satisfactorily for a number of years.

An enjoyable informal commingling commonly known as "a smoker" followed the conclusion of the evening's business program. On the whole, it was a delightful commemoration of the satisfactory condition and prosperity of the lodge, which numbers among its membership many veterans of the order and in past years has included an even larger number of prominent Masons.

H. M. MARTIN WAS CHOSEN HEAD OF KIWANIS CLUB

The annual election of officer featured the bi-weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club yesterday. Herbert H. Martin was elected president and J. T. Catlin, vice president. The following were named directors: James Butard, Frank Talbot, M. K. Harris, C. L. Booth and W. T. Gravelly.

The matter of a donation to the Community Chest was brought to the attention of the organization and a motion was passed to donate $100 to the chest.

A resolution was adopted at the meeting to drop all members in arrears for dues on January 1.

Amusements AT THE MAJESTIC TONIGHT

"The First Year", Comis-Tragedy of Married Life Direct From Broadway

Described as one of the most human as well as humorous, comedies that has graced the American stage in recent years, "The First Year" will be the attraction at the Majestic tonight.

When a play labelled a comedy keeps an audience in good humor through an evening, it is generally considered to have filled its mission. "The First Year", however, does even more than this. During each of its three acts, it provides about two laughs a minute, on a conservative estimate, and the fun is continuous until the fall of the final curtain. Every possible variety of laugh is said to be heard, to the hearty shout that doesn't give a whoop. As might be expected, the title, "The First Year", deals with the early months of marital strife of a young bride and bridegroom. The cast that will be seen at the Majestic Theatre, it is promised, measures up fully to Mr. Goldie's high standard of selection and includes Gregory Kelly, Ruth Gordon, John W. Ransome, Fanny Rice, Ray L. Royce, Edith Wright, Tom Cady, Joseph Garry and Isabella DeArmond.

Prices 50c to $2.50. Seat sale now at box office.

GREEN ALMOND IS NEW COLOR

LONDON, Dec. 14.—"Green almond" is in favor.

No, "green almond" is not a new patisserie or confection; it's the newest color and is prevailing in Autumn hats in a fashionable English circles.

"Green almond" appears mostly in velvets, and its only color rival is black, many black hats being seen in the most fashionable shops.

Heavy veils which are draped over hats are quite the thing. Veils are worn in every fashion, from the veil which only shows the mouth to veils which drop in front almost to the knees. All of the veils are frontal veils and do not hang in the rear at all. Some stunning veils are seen in black lace.

Hats are smaller, but it is predicted that this is just a reverse of the Spring fashions. The toque and the tiny hat will be in favor during the Autumn and Winter months, but the best milliners are laying in hundreds of huge, floppy shapes for the Spring. Hairdressers are already anticipating the return of the big hats and are advising their clientele that the hair must be permitted to grow and be come more full to enable the wearing of the larger hats.

For evening wear, wigs made in gold or silver tinsel thread, or in red silk floss, are quite the latest thing. These wigs are shaped after the fashion of "bobbed" hair and are tied with ribbon bows.

An unusual material seen this fall is shaved lamb skin. This is being largely used in hats in conjunction with panne velvet and gives an unusual and effective touch. Black and grey lamb skin are most popular.

Evening gowns are constantly growing longer, and "ankles" give promise of passing out of sight altogether before Spring.

CARPENTER WAS BADLY HURT IN 15-FOOT FALL

H. M. Wright, a carpenter, was seriously injured yesterday morning when he fell fifteen feet from a scaffold. Wright was engaged in improvements on the home of James I. ## CLEVELAND HAS HUGE RESERVOIR

CLEVELAND, Dec. 14.—An underground reservoir which will hold 135,000,000 gallons of water and will cost approximately $13,000,000, now is under construction here. Engineers state that the reservoir will be in use next year but the entire waterworks addition, started in 1914, will not be finished before 1924.

The plant covers fifty acres and is located in one of the city's exclusive residential sections. The concrete cover, supported by 1,096 columns thirty inches in diameter and forty feet high, is 1,050 feet long and 550 feet wide.

The reservoir will not be seen by the ordinary observer, as it is planned to cover the top with earth and to make an attractive park on top, with walks, shrubbery and artificial lakes.

Over the raw water conduit is the chemical house in which are four bins holding 217 tons of chemicals used in the purification of the water. In the mixing flume the water flows down a slope at the rate of 10 feet per second and it is here that the chemicals are mixed for the filtration process. The mixed water then enters the coagulation basins, four in number each holding 8,250,000 gallons. These are of concrete construction with groined arch roof. The clear water reservoir, which is the largest of the unit, consists of two basins of reinforced concrete, with a storage capacity of 125,000,000 gallons of water, sufficient for a day's water supply for the city.

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 14.—Events of the next few days are expected to determine the question of whether a special session of the General Assembly will be called. The Governor hopes to issue a statement on the matter either Monday or Tuesday. Senator Harry F. Byrd, of Winchester, and Delegate Thomas W. Ozlin, of Lunenburg, are due here today to canvass the returns from the questionnaire sent out by those who are opposed to a bond issue, but are willing to pass an emergency gasoline tax. Information from the office of Hubert C. Adding the number of those favoring a special session to pass a gasoline tax to the number pledged to the passage of a bond issue, it is believed that a large majority of both branches of the General Assembly are in favor of a special session to

College Girl Setting Pace as to Style

A new fashion authority has risen in America. It is the college girl. She decides what young women shall wear. Not officially, but distastefully. It simply is tacitly recognized by designers that what pleases her will please other girls of her age. Just now she likes the mannish golf sweater. The slip-on has gone, for the present at least. Heavy sweaters of brushed wool, leather mixtures and camel's hair are the favorites. With the coat-sweater usually is worn a camel's hair skirt in the natural color, or else a plain skirt of heavy wool plaid.

Special Council Meeting Dec. 23

A special meeting of the city council has been called for 11:30 o'clock on December 23rd to take further action on the ordinance which in its amended form would permit the street car company to charge a seven cent fare if it develops that there has been some misunderstanding of the city attorney's ruling on the legality of action last Monday night. Under the rule governing the amendment of an ordinance it must be published for ten days before it is finally acted on but it was voted on last Monday on the understanding that in this instance action could be taken. The meeting on December 23rd will be held in the city hall and will result only in the calling of the roll and the registration of the votes of the members of the council after the customary ten day lapse.

Good Morning Judge!

A fine of fifty-one dollars and costs and a jail term of thirty days, was the penalty imposed on Fletcher Seals, colored, in the police court this morning for shooting at Maurice Price, also colored. The jail sentence was suspended, pending Fletcher's good behavior for twelve months. The fine also drew a fine of thirty dollars and costs for having a concealed weapon.

Price testified that he was at Louisa Voss's house and that Fletcher Seals, colored, was there in a short while Fletcher came and began to shoot at him, bringing a revolver into play and firing several times, one of the shots coming dangerously close to striking him.

Seals had little to say about the matter. He only stated that he was not firing at any one, but shooting in the air. Racial Walker, colored, through her attorney, appeared a nifty dollars and costs fine and thirty day jail sentence, for an alleged violation of the snapp act, as result of a raid made by police officers on her store on the Jump Grove road several days ago.

Walker, colored, was fined ten dollars and costs, while a warrant against George Warren was dismissed. Officers testified they aided the police, discovered several pop bottles in Walker's possession, found a gun in Pritchett's possession and found Warren with two bottles. They also alleged that Warren poured out two half gallon fruit jars of his liquor before they could reach him.

The negress denied that she knew anything about the whiskey case. Pritchett took the whole thing upon himself, stating that all the whiskey belonged to him and that the woman knew nothing of it. The case of James R. Dillard, charged with being in a fight, was called but it was announced that Dillard was unable to appear and the case was continued indefinitely. Theistic battle took place in the courtroom yesterday as result of an argument over small debt.

Beverly Banks, colored, was fined 40 dollars and a half for creating a disturbance by the use of profane language to Newton Stephens, colored. Wesley Keen, colored, assessed six dollars and costs for creating a disturbance by the use of profane and threatening language to Gilbert Wiley.

Alvin Graves' and costs him $27.35 his morning. He said that he found a half gallon jar of whiskey in a coat below the depot and took charge of it. But he did not get very far as police officers found him with it and placed him under arrest. Fred McQueen fined $14.45 for operating a machine without the proper license tags. McQueen noted an appeal.

FIFTEEN ARE KILLED

HOUSTON, Dec. 13.—Upwards of 15 persons were killed and two score injured, many fatally when passenger train no. 28 on the Houston East and West Texas Railroad sideswiped a switch engine in front of the depot at Humble, 17 miles from here, a few minutes after tea o'clock.

Startling Evidence In Texas Disaster

Throttle of Switch Engine
Which Killed 18 Is Found Wide Open—Enquiry Is
on.

HOUSTON, Tex., Dec. 14.—While the death list in Wednesday's rail tragedy at Humble grew steadily during today, a board of inquiry sitting at Humble developed some startling testimony, according to rail officials. Witnesses before that body testified that the throttle of the switch engine, side-swiped a few minutes after 10 p. m. last night by Houston East and West Texas passenger train, was found open after the crash. Other witnesses said the locomotive was moving slowly away from the main line intersection at the moment of impact.

J. S. Smith, aged watchman, in charge of the switch engine, who suffered a nervous breakdown Wednesday, could not be found to testify. He was brought to the Southern Pacific Hospital in Houston, after the accident. His injuries proved slight and he left the hospital soon afterward. The death list tonight stood at 18 and the injured at 14. Of these little hope is held for three or four.

Of the dead, nine succumbed after being brought to Houston hospitals for treatment. Based on testimony obtained by the board, it was found that a two-inch leaden rod, which was used to operate the boiler was stripped from alongside the engine and was twisted around spouting steam and hot water. The full force from the boiler emptied itself into the coach through a window. Many of these with-in died almost instantly. It is believed the board found that the engine then was moved by some unknown party.

The board found that the crews of both the switch engine and passenger train were blameless for the work. It was established that the crew had left the switch engine "spotted" in the usual place and well clear of the main line at about 9:15 p. m. only a short time before the accident. Members of the board found that the engine then was moved by some unknown party.

Radio Amateurs' Reach Europe

Radio enthusiasts are following with interest the efforts which have recently been made by amateurs throughout the country to reach European wireless stations. The tests have been surprisingly successful and in a bulletin issued by the American Radio Relay League of Hartford, Conn., it is shown that amateur stations all over the United States have been in communication with radio plants on the other side of the Atlantic. Among the successful transmitting stations in the United States is one at Wilmington, N. C. (4EX).

Gets $1,000 Damages For Fat Due to Injury

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 14.—Mrs. Lorene Caldwell, whose weight has increased from 160 to a burdensome 375 pounds in two years, won her suit against the Chicago and Alton Railroad in the Federal Court today. But, instead of the $50,000 damages first asked, the jury awarded her $1,000, scarcely $5 a pound of the flesh she has taken on.

Mrs. Caldwell was struck by a Chicago and Alton locomotive in December, 1920. Physicians testified the injury of the head she suffered interfered with the proper functioning of the pituitary body, a ductless gland in the brain which largely regulates the accumulation of fat.

Inspectors Here Checking Up On Booze Prescriptions

That federal inspectors are in Danville visiting the offices of doctors and testing their integrity in the matter of liquor prescriptions became known today. What appears to be a check-up of doctors is taking place in Virginia and Danville is now being visited by the government officials in an effort to see how hard it is to secure a passport to a pint through the drug store route. Recently several Richmond physicians were proceeded against through the United States court. Some Petersburg doctors also were involved and one or two from other Virginia cities. The medical profession in Danville stands without reproach on this score, thus far, although it now seems evident that efforts are being made to enquire into the writing of liquor prescriptions.

One reputable physician with a large practice in this city, revealed the scheme which is being worked. A few nights ago a man entered his office and asked point blank for a prescription for liquor with a sly wink. This man was promptly sent about his business by the medico who resorts to liquor prescriptions only in the case of emergency. He had dismissed the matter from his mind thinking that the man was either a crank or that he was so hard up for a drink that he resorted to a bold invitation to the doctor to violate the law. A night or two later, another man came in and made application for a liquor prescription. The physician then realized what was taking place and smilingly confronted the man with his true mission, telling him that he was an inspector. He had dismissed the matter from his mind thinking that the man was either a crank or that he was so hard up for a drink that he resorted to a bold invitation to the doctor to violate the law. A night or two later, another man came in and made application for a liquor prescription. The physician then realized what was taking place and smilingly confronted the man with his true mission, telling him that he was an inspector. He had dismissed the matter from his mind thinking that the man was either a crank or that he was so hard up for a drink that he resorted to a bold invitation to the doctor to violate the law.

It is reported that one Richmond physician recently refused to be hoodwinked on this score and turned the trick neatly on the alleged inspector. He called to see with what case he could secure a prescription. The man after making known his desire was taken in hand seriously by the doctor who stripped him and subjected the applicant for the liquor to a searching examination. He tried to get away with the stethoscope, examined his throat, ears and nose with various instruments. Took a drop of blood from the lobe of the man's ear and then gravely sat down at his table and wrote out a prescription for a dose of castor oil.

Handing it to the applicant the doctor said: "Twenty-five dollars, please." The inspector taken aback, began to expostulate over the charge but the physician remained adamant and finally threatened to call an officer unless the man paid him his fee which, he said, he was asking for the examination and treatment given the man. The inspector paid the money which probably was refunded later by the physician as part of the officer's legitimate expenses.

It develops that men who find the period between drinks long and annoying are up to all sorts of tricks in trying to work doctors for liquor. The physician who revealed this circumstance says that not long since a breathless man dashed into his office and asked hurriedly for a liquor prescription on telling him that he had just been called to the bedside of his aged mother who lived in a nearby suburb and who was in need of a stimulant. He said he had just time to catch the train. The doctor demurred. The next day he met the man on the street, apparently in no great hurry.

WILL ASSIST DISABLED SOLDIERS WITH CLAIMS

Former service men who have claims pending with the United States Veterans' Bureau for compensation or claims of any description incident to their military service are requested to call upon Ashton Barksdale, representative of the 1300th Central Postal Directory, on Monday and Tuesday, December 18th and 19th. Applications will also be received from ex-soldiers who wish to file claim for disease or injury which they attribute to their military service. All such applicants should bring with them their discharge from the service together with any correspondence received from the Bureau or other government departments. Mr. Barksdale will have headquarters in Room 25, Arcade building, and all ex-soldiers who wish information or assistance are urged to avail themselves of this opportunity.

LAW DECLARES FRANKLY FOR BALFOUR NOTE

LONDON, Dec. 14.—(By The Associated Press.)—Premier Bonar Law made an important statement in the House of Commons today declared frankly for the policy of the Balfour note, which advocated an adjustment of inter-allied debts by an all-round cancellation. England, on her part, surrounding her share of reparations to be paid by Germany. Thus the prime minister indicates the new government, despite its first declaration that the Balfour note no longer existed so far as the present British government was concerned, and that it would not consider itself bound by it, feels impelled to the same policy as the previous government.

The remainder of Mr. Bonar Law's speech was clearly addressed to both France and the United States—to France a plea for moderation in dealing with Germany on the ground that the country is already on the verge of collapse; to America, a call for help and cooperation in settling the difficult problems of reparations and inter-allied debts.

The Prime Minister showed the utmost anxiety that there should be no misunderstanding of British feelings towards both France and the United States and said it was only English difficult position he was making clear.

In the subsequent debate the most noteworthy contribution was by James Ramsay MacDonald, the Labor leader. Mr. Lloyd George also spoke but confined himself to a brief expression of complete approval of Mr. Bonar Law's speech.

Mr. MacDonald, on the contrary gave a complete elucidation of the policy of the labor party. He maintained that the United States held the key and was the only country able to give Great Britain any help. He differed from the prime minister, however, in believing that it was inadvisable to mix together too much the questions of reparations and inter-allied debts.

Camp Grant To Be Auctioned Off

(By The Associated Press.)

ROCKFORD, Ill., Dec. 15.—Camp Grant, another of the war time scenes of bustling military activity, soon is to go upon the auction block—one of the final steps in its ultimate wrecking as a cantonment.

Between 1,200 and 1,400 buildings and utilities are to be sold, part of a camp that at the height of its operations covered 5,555 acres of land and housed approximately 60,000 men. Three army officers now are making a survey of the salvage value of the buildings, all located in the area of the old base hospital site.

Buildings in the areas turned over to the national guard of Illinois and the portion reserved for the proposed reformatory for first term federal offenders are not included in the survey. The Baldwin, Samuelson and Johnson farms are to be returned to their owners. Other properties were bought by the government and condemnation proceedings were necessary in some cases.

It was on May 12, 1917, that the war department submitted to the Rockford Chamber of Commerce the requirements for a military camp in northern Illinois. The site was inspected by five army officers May 30 and on June 12 the lands were definitely selected. Leases were obtained on 2,501 acres. This later was reduced to 2,244 acres, when property intended for a range was found unsuitable. Subsequently a new rifle range and safety zone were selected and the total area ultimately used was 5,555 acres.

The Eighty-sixth division was trained at Camp Grant. Several thousand negro soldiers also were trained here. Hundreds of thousands of soldiers were discharged from the camp after the war. Several public auctions in the last year disposed of thousands of dollars worth of camp property. The federal reformatory project is meeting opposition here. Rockford sent a representative to Washington to appear before the House Judiciary committee to protest against a favorable report on the bill, locating the prison at Camp Grant.

PROHIBITION AND KLAN ARE CONSIDERED BY GOVERNORS

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Dec. 14.—Prohibition and the Ku Klux Klan was considered prominently at the fourteenth annual conference of governors in session today and tonight.

Governor John M. Parker, of Louisiana, in an address late today declared prohibition was a flat failure and denounced the Ku Klux Klan. He was joined in his attack on the secret organization by Governor Ben W. Olcott, of Oregon, who referred to the Klan in an address tonight as a national menace.

The Louisiana governor said he referred to the subject of prohibition because of the intention of President Harding to call the governors in conference next month "regarding the matter of prohibition enforcement." Declaring that prohibition was almost a farce, he said it was infinitely better to abolish the saloon, permit light wines and beer to be sold, and have the government regulate the manufacture and distribution of liquor with penitentiary sentences for those who defied clear and explicit liquor laws. Both the prohibition question and the Ku Klux Klan, Mr. Parker said, were black clouds threatening law and order.

The Klan, he continued, was spreading over the United States and working under mask and cover. He asked that the governors put themselves on record at the conference as advocating that America should be ruled by her judiciary and not by an invisible Klan; that no masked men should be allowed to parade the streets; and that federal legislation be enacted requiring secret organizations to file semi-annually with the Department of Justice sworn lists of their memberships.

Governor Olcott, challenged the Klansmen to unmask.

"It is largely a political organization," he said, "founded for certain objects and purposes. Let it be specific. Let it throw down its gage of battle in the open lists so the tournament may be fought under the eyes of all mankind."

"When I refer to what I consider one of the gravest menaces ever confronting our national or civic life I refer to the Ku Klux Klan."

Governor E. Lee Trinkle, of Virginia, was another speaker at tonight's session. He described the operation of the budget system in his state.

BLOODY PRISONERS DRIVEN THRO' STREETS BY ARMED MEN

MARION, Ill., Dec. 14.—(By The Associated Press.)—The march of several hundred armed men driving before them through the streets of Herrin six bloodstained prisoners and the finding later of twenty bodies was described to the jury by several witnesses today at the trial of five men held in connection with the riots of last June.

Before a tense audience who packed the somber court room to the doors and overflowed into the stairway leading to it and the corridors below, witnesses for the state pointed out three of the defendants as men they had seen with weapons in their hands the morning of the tragedy.

Six of the bodies, according to the testimony of J. Marshall Lentz, a Herrin real estate dealer, and T. N. Lentz, his brother, who is a blacksmith and a member of the United Mine Workers of America, were bound together with a single rope about the neck. Fourteen other dead or injured victims were found just outside the Herrin City Cemetery on the outskirts of the town, they testified.

Marshall Lentz, the first of the two to take the stand, testified to seeing a crowd of several hundred men passing before his house in Herrin early in the morning of June 22, the day of the killing. He said the crowd was shouting and singing and looked like a mob and that "about six prisoners with bloody hands heads were being driven ahead." Then later he said, he had gone with his brother through the woods at the edge of the village.

"What did you see in the woods?" he was asked.

"Fourteen who had been shot down and some armed men. He added that he had then gone toward the city cemetery."

"What did you find there?" asked Delos Duty, state's attorney.

"I found six men in the middle of the road tied together with ropes about their necks. Three of them were still breathing, I think."

"Did you see anything else of wounded or dead men?"

"Yes, we drove down the road in an automobile and saw four more dead—one of them was hanging to a tree."

TARIFF WON'T AFFECT CHINA

SHANKHAI, Dec. 14.—China's trade with the United States is not being affected by the new American tariff law, according to views expressed in official and commercial circles in Shanghai. The chief exports from China that are affected by the American tariff are eggs, peanuts and walnuts. These constitute less than a fifth of China's annual exports to the United States.

The bulk of China's exports to America in aggregate valuation comprises raw cotton, silk, tea, hides, undressed furs, fur skins, carpet wool, wood oil and sausage casings, or about 70 per cent. of the country's exports, and these are continued on the free list.

Hair nets, strawbraid, feathers and down, constituting about 10 per cent. of China's exports, are said to be admitted under the same scale of duties that obtained under the 1913 tariff.

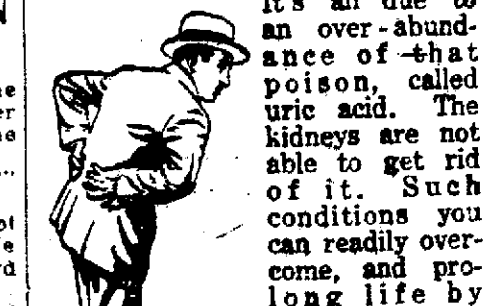

The new law's increase from 45 per cent. to 55 per cent. on manufactured silk, including pomades, will not materially affect this trade, it is believed, nor is it thought that additions in the ad valorem duty from 60 per cent. to 80 per cent. on lacers and from 60 to 70 per cent. on embroidery will have much effect in reducing the bulk of these exports.

SEATTLE, Dec. 14.—Confectioners for the most part have done a big business this year. Although over production cut profits until about three months ago manufacturers find today that retailers are in a good credit position and have bought with a confidence not shown since 1920. The demand is for cheaper grades selling at 25 to 30 cents a pound.

Ouch! Such Pain!

It takes you right in the back! Sometimes in the arm, hip or foot. It's all due to an over-abundance of that poison, called uric acid. The kidneys are not able to get rid of it. Such conditions you can readily overcome, and prolong life by taking the advice of Dr. Pierce, which is, "Keep the kidneys in good order." Avoid too much meat, alcohol or tea. Drink plenty of pure water, preferably hot water, before meals, and drive the uric acid out of the system by taking Anuric. This can be obtained at any drug store, in tablet form. Ask for Dr. Pierce's Anuric (kidney and backache remedy).

Many of your neighbors have received benefit taking Anuric just as has Rev. J. R. Brown. "I had bladder trouble and consulted my family doctor. I took his treatment for some time without permanent results. Then I consulted to try Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets and after taking a few bottles I found the disease had yielded to the treatment and I was entirely cured, not only of the bladder trouble but also all the rheumatic pains were gone.—Rev. J. Russell Brown.—adv.

10 Reasons Why You Should Buy a Columbia

- Stream-line Cabinet
Harmonizes delightfully with your home furnishings. All finishes are beautiful and easily kept clean.
- Automatic Record Ejector
Eliminates the search for the desired record. An ideal place for your choice selections. Automatically cleans them before use.
- Tone Control Levers
Loud or soft music as you choose—operates on same principle as pipe organ control.
- One-hand Top
Easy to raise and lower without danger of damage or breakage.
- Universal Reproducer
which gives natural accuracy of tone because it is constructed to reproduce the proper balance between overtones and fundamental tones.
- Straight Tone Arm
which allows the sound waves to develop fully and naturally—unimpeded by joints and reflections—from the time they are picked off the record till they emerge through the tone arm.
- Tone Amplifier
which assures free and natural amplification. Size and design are the result of 30 years' constant experimentation.
- Display Motor
Brake (to stop record) operates on the motor—not on turn-table. Noiseless gears. Guaranteed. Easy to oil or clean.
- Ease of Handling Needles
Three cups for different types. Used needles dropped into special receptacle. Extra convenience of needle insertion.
- Non-Set Automatic Stop
It stops the motor, without human aid, when the record has finished playing.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES.

The comings and goings of men, large in the nation's life, are always watched with interest. Some of their movements have a direct and distinct effect on the nation's business life.
The chattering stock market wire which reflects the pulse of the financial world is quick to record a visit to Europe of some captain of industry and it is true that a hurried visit by a financier from New York to some other city in the country is flashed far and wide because of its possible significance.

The visit of J. Pierpont Morgan to Secretary of State Hughes on Wednesday is almost epochal and there is international interest in the subsequent hasty visit of President Harding to Mr. Hughes. There can be no doubt that there is rapport between the two. The realm of speculation is wide and there is some justification in suggesting possibly that a change in Administration policy with regard to Europe is in view. Mr. Morgan only a few days ago came back from Europe. He was gravely upon arrival and declined to be drawn into a discussion of conditions as he found them over there. That was a little unusual in itself but his silence taken in connection with his visit to Washington has distinct significance, especially when it is recalled that while
Mr. Morgan deferred a visit to Berlin
he was in direct touch with representatives of that country.

What one might call inspired articles emanating from Washington characterizing the German situation as distinctly grave and at a new low level of economic chaos, it is not hard to gather the strands of evidence which can be woven into a plausible construction of impending help from the financial interests in this country for the distressed German Republic.
The events of the next few weeks promise to be interesting.

WINTER MAGIC.

Far north in the Yukon and eastward to Hudson's Bay, the thermometer has dropped to 50 below zero and heavy winter snows are falling.
Behold nature working mysterious magic:

The ptarmigan bird's colored plumage has suddenly turned white. This blends into the background of snow, making the ptarmigan invisible when sought by preying foxes and wolves.
No man could think out a better protection.

In the same country the brown
stoat or weasel also turns white, yielding the expensive fur, ermine.
This little animal does not need protection as much as the plump ptarmigan. Why the white? Nature provides it because white fur is an insulator, prevents the escape of bodily heat. Tropical people work the rule backward, wear white because it absorbs less external heat than colors.

Do you hate winter? It's necessary.
Prof. J. Arthur Thomson, in his "Outline of Science," analyzes the biology of the seasons.

Winter, he decides, comes after the great activity of summer by the law that rest must follow toil.

Most humans on their best work in winter, instead of resting. That's because we live unnaturally—have gradually built up powers to enable us to "carry on" regardless of seasons, climate or weather.

If we lived more naturally, nature would take better care of us. Possibly disease germs and epidemics are nature's ways of punishing us for straying from the fold.

We defy winter, yet during it are conscious of repeated attacks of languor and "out of sorts" feelings and moods that we cannot understand.
All these are an inheritance of the more natural laws of our ancestors—instinctive laws of nature starting in our blood and brain.

"Winter," writes Thomson, "is a time of stife—the time of severe elimination. The rest and sleep of winter are often the necessary conditions of the vigor of another spring, but in a deeper way it is through the lifting windowing, pruning or elimination of ages of winters that there has been spring after spring of progressive evolution."

It would be perfectly natural for us to toil in summer and autumn, accumulating surplus food, fuel, clothing and shelter for winter. Then from October to April we could enjoy ourselves at ease, playing, visiting, thinking, with occasional sports such as fishing through the ice or hunting.

Would you prefer that kind of life?
Alas! It might be natural, but mother would get the raw end of the deal. Her work would go on—cooking, cleaning, mending and directing.
Nature usually is kindest to the male.

Scoop's Colyum

DRAKES BRANCH, Dec. 15.— (Grapevine Wireless).—Something like a half century ago there lived in Danville a brilliant young lawyer, whose intellectual attainments marked
him as a great career.
But, like Poe, that other genius, his strength was hampered by a fatal weakness, paradoxical as it may seem.

Long since passed on that bourn from whence no traveler returns. As time tempers our judgment of men, they are remembered for those rare
flashes of genius left behind; the flaws in the gem of character are overlooked and forgotten as the perfect part is held in high relief. The good men do lives after them. The evil fades away.

From the depth of a tortured soul,
Richard Lyles wrote:
The Drunkard's Lament.
I have been to the funeral of all my hopes,
And entombed them one by one:
Not a word was said,
Not a tear was shed,
When the mournful task was done.

Slowly and sadly I turned me 'round
And sought my silent room,
And there alone,
By the cold hearthstone,
I wept the midnight gloom.

And as the night wind's deepening shad-
Towered above my brow,
I wept o'er days
When manhood's rays
Were brighter far than now.

The dying embers on the hearth
Gave out their flickering light,
As if to say,
This is the way
Thy life shall close in night.

I wept aloud in anguish sore
O'er the blight of prospects fair,
While demons laughed
And eagerly quaffed
My tears like nectar rare.

Through hell's red hall an echo rang,
An echo loud and long,
As in the bowl
I plunged my soul
In the night of madness strong.

And there within that sparkling glass
I knew the cause to lie,
This all men own,
From zone to zone:
Yet millions drink and die.

For Married Women.

Let not your husband behold the result of your shopping tours. He may find it hard to believe that everything is going back again except a spool of silk and a pair of white gloves.

The worm will turn, especially if the little dapper is good-looking and you do nothing to improve your own face.

Be not persuaded to enlighten your spouse as to who it was he glimpsed kissing you at the club dance. It might chance to be the wrong incident.

Urge not that your husband buy for you the hat of your longings. How can you tell whether you want it or not until you possess it? Better to wheel the price out of him in a subtle way than to disclose the necklines of the feminine soul.

Even if marriages are made in Heaven that won't satisfy the modern idea of bliss unless there is some sort of divorce attachment to go along with it.—Kay Keen.

The Doctor Knows.

Perhaps the immutable law of action and reaction is never better illustrated than by the crossness of the children after the picnic.

Hard Lines.

"Unfair, I say," remarked the glove counter girl with a red hair.
"What is unfair?"
"The way they treated that ship that just landed from England."

"What did they do to it?"
"It had been only four days crossing the Atlantic, hadn't laid off an hour, had run every minute—"
"Yes?"
"And still, when it got here, they docked it!"

"Nothing," declares Sam Warren,
"makes a farmer so tormented mad
as to be referred to as an agricultur-ist. His disgust is equalled only by that of a newspaper man who is dubbed a journalist."

The Silver Lining.

"Sentence you to die in the electric chair," pronounced the court.
"Well," soliloquized the prisoner,
"that ain't bad back to his cell,
'that ain't so worse. The doctor told me electricity would be a fine thing for my gout."

"What would you suggest for our literary club to read?" asked Mrs.
Flubbs. "A good book," replied pounded her brutal husband.

The Meanest Man.

The meanest man on record is said to live in Sturtevant, Mass. He sold his pig in half of a cow, and then refused to divide the milk, maintaining that he sold only the front half. The buyer was also refused to take the cow and carry water to her three times a day. Recently, the cow broke the old man, and now he is suing his son-in-law for damages.

THE ONE-MAN WOMAN—NO. 5

BACK AGAIN TO THE OLD LIFE

By Ruth Agnes Abelin

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

KATE PARSONS had quarreled with her mother in her youth. The girl high-spirited, ran away from home one night and disappeared in the maze of the great city.

There she had met, loved and married.

DAN WARD, their married life had been happy but he had died and after a long absence Kate turned toward home.

There she learned that her mother was dead. Kate decided to live with her father.

JUSTIN PARSONS, now alone in the world with only the old dog,
MONK, for a companion.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

ALMOST with the dawn Kate Ward was up.
While she dressed, Monk padded around at her heels, rubbing an affectionate nose over her slippers. Then he stretched with his huge forepaws on her shoulders while he looked confidingly but questioningly into her face.

"Will get him a nice breakfast, won't we?" Kate questioned, thinking of Justin, who had been in the room on the other side of the hall was stirring to consciousness and trying to clarify his vision, in which persisted Kate and her mother as they were years before.

Hot biscuits, Monk—and a bowl of milk, and home for you!"

Monk expressed approval with a mad twitching of his stubby tail and followed Kate to the kitchen.

"Didn't do much dishwashing, zeekon in the city?" Justin was helping his daughter to put away the breakfast things.

"Not much" smiling.

"That's the trouble with us, Kate—not enough dishes to wash and clothes to mend for the women, or kids to support for the men," rumbled Justin.

"No sooty."

"Your fault," suggested the elderly man.

"You're lying, Katie. I never knew you to tell an untruth, but I know you aren't that kind of a woman."

He's gone now—anyway, gently.
Justin Parsons looked at his daughter sharply. That was like her, just to come and not say anything. It was like her mother to ask for not to expect anything, and so she had to be foolish.

And that was all that was said between Kate Ward and her father concerning the passing of Dan Ward.

Justin Parsons walked alone out in the garden to the hollyhocks grew tall and pink. On down the little path she went toward the cool, green dusk of the grove.

"I can forget here—and I can find him again," she murmured as she reached against the soft moss at the foot of a huge oak.

There was in her heart a very defi-

Dance Frock in Celestial Blue With Silver Ribbon

By MARY BROOKS PICKEN

CELESTIAL blue crepe Roma combines with silver ribbon and tiny chalk-white beads to make this unusually smart dinner or dance frock.

The front and back are ornamented exactly alike with an unusual arrangement of the silver ribbon outlined with beads. The frock slips over the head. A bow of silver ribbon with streamers is sewed at the center-back neck line.

The skirt is of two lengthwise pieces of crepe Roma joined in the front by a ribbon panel. The fullness of the skirt and its length depend upon individual becoming-ness.

A wreath of silver makes the hair band.
Coral color or pale green would also be good as a foundation color
if more becoming than blue.

If an afternoon dress is desired, dull green crepe Roma with bronze ribbon and beads would be attractive; also, black with black more ribbon and bittersweet red beads makes a smart combination.

KNOCK-OUT BLOW AND SHELL-SHOCK DISCUSSED

PARIS, Dec. 14.—The medical resemblance between shell shock and a knock out blow in boxing was discussed by Dr. Louis Lovette before the Academy of Medicine today. Dr.
Lovette declared the sequence of feelings felt in each case as exactly similar, asserting that loss of memory followed return to consciousness.
He concluded that both phenomena were commotional, not emotional.

"HELL'S HALF ACRE"
WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Hell's Half Acre was located today—and located officially.

It is in Wyoming and would be used by Natrona county for park purposes under a bill introduced by Representative Mondell, the Republican leader, who hails from that state.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

"I CAN FIND HIM AGAIN HERE."
SHE MURMURED.

nite happiness despite the loneliness.
Because Kate Ward knew that she had come back, all the way back, a little narrow, primitive path.

She remembered so well the night
she dropped out of her bedroom window and started down the road. Remembered the season that had followed, the mad hit-or-miss days with Elsie, until Dan Ward, in his car, passed the park bench on which she sat alone that morning.

The way down to that morning hadn't been the glorious, free, rose-pink, candlelight way of the romance's imagination. It was a little way, shadowed and uncertain, flicking on either side by the flame of a not yet numbed conscience. A primitive way, steps rough-hewn by ruthless desire.

She had had to come back by that same little way that she went—with one burden added—doubt of the man who loved her. She had known that while he lived, Dan never felt quite sure about her, but she felt that with his passing he must understand.

So, even in her loneliness, Kate was happy because she was sure he knew on either side by the flame of a not yet numbed conscience. A primitive way, steps rough-hewn by ruthless desire.

She smiled as she turned once more toward the little house.

Her father stood in the door.

"Katie," he said, as she neared,
"there's someone here to see you."

PRESCRIPTIONS FOR COAL

LAWRENCE, Mass., Dec. 14.—
Prescriptions for coal are being given by physicians and honored by coal dealers in this city. One doctor said today that within two weeks he had received a dozen prescriptions written on regular prescription blanks and each calling for half a ton of coal. Such orders were given preference over all others he said.

POSSIBILITIES OF ALCOHOL IN CUBA

HAVANA, Cuba, Dec. 14.—Cuba could enter the markets of the world with an annual production of 200-000,000 liters to industrial alcohol to compete against gasoline, according to Luis Maspons, chief internal tax collector. He bases his estimate on the amount of molasses and other by-products available or the manufacture of alcohol from the last sugar harvest.

Family Sets New College Record

ELLEN CORNISH

(Special to The Bee.)

BERKELEY, Cal., Dec. 15.—When Ellen Cornish enters the University of California next month at the age of 14, she will be the third member of her family to matriculate at that precious age. Her brother, 16, is now a junior. The other 13, graduated with honors last year, and is a teaching fellow in chemistry at the college.

None of the three attended grammar school. Each entered high school at the age of 10, after receiving early schooling from the mother, who during her teaching days, drew her own conclusions regarding school work.

"Any mother who did it she gave the time," says Mrs. Frank V. Cornish, the mother.

"But too many mothers want to go to clubs and amusements. They don't see that age the rule, but teaching methods will have to change, and there must be thorough training in the fundamentals, with the confusing nonse-sentials crowded out."

News Briefs

NEW YORK.—Daniel Willard,
president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, in an address before the Advertising Club of New York today declared he believed it would be a serious mistake to amend the transportation act of 1920 at this time.

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla.—Hawford Mobley and Roy Matthews, affected bank robbers, barely in their majority but notorious in this section for their escapades, escaped from the county jail here today and tonight had apparently made good their freedom in the Everglades.

LOS ANGELES.—Twenty five industrial workers of the World refused to ride the East Side Jail today and were subdued only after shot gun squad had been dispatched from the Central Police Station.

LONDON.—The steamship Eastern
Sun is standing by the Eastern Glade which took fire several days ago while passing the Cape Verde Islands on her way from New York for Capetown, South Africa, according to a message received by the United States Shipping Board offices here.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING HAS BROKEN RECORDS

BY DICK SMITH

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 14.—Early Christmas shopping has broken all records in Kansas City. This heavy early buying is expected to hold over sales somewhat in the last few days before Christmas but the total will exceed that for 1921 or 1922.

Wholesale orders for dry goods and clothing excellent volume of orders and manufacturers of work carpenteries are speeding up their plans to the utmost. Groceries, drugs and packing house products are selling freely.

With ore shipments heavy and prices up the Tri-State Lead and Zinc field is approaching 1923 with the brightest prospects in its history.

Harding Gives Endorsement To Co-Op Movement

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—(By The Associated Press)—Endorsement of co-operative marketing was expressed by President Harding, Secretary Wallace of the Department of Agriculture, and Dr. Julius Klein, chief of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce of the Department of Commerce and by a number of representatives of farmers' organizations, at the first meeting today of the National Council of Farmers' Co-operative Marketing Associations. National organizations marketing major commodities were represented by several hundred delegates from thirty six states.

In a message of greeting read by Senator Ernest of Kentucky, the President declared he knew of "no single movement that promises more help towards the present relief and the permanent betterment of agriculture conditions than the co-operative organizations of farmers to market their products."

The system, Secretary Wallace said, should act to avoid glutting markets with farm products and at the same time low prices to producers and high costs to consumers. "If we can avoid these periods of feast and famine," he added, "the farmers will benefit more by a fairly stable price and the consumer will be able to buy what they need at more reasonable prices."

"Hence as I see it, the organization and successful conduct of farmers' cooperative associations results in a benefit both to farmers and the people who consume the products."

The Department of Agriculture regards marketing as essentially a part of production the secretary said, "and it seems to us just as much our business to help the farmers market his crop intelligently and get fair prices for them as it is to help him produce them in the first place."

"A productive agriculture must be a prosperous agriculture."

Declaring he wanted the government to do "everything within reason and sound procedure for the aid of the farmers," President Harding said he was "still more anxious that the farmers shall themselves cooperate to make the government's efforts doubly efficacious."

Pledges of cooperation in the country efforts were made in behalf of the National Farm Bureau Federation, the National Grange and the Farmers Union of America.

Aaron Sapir, of San Francisco, general counsel for the Cooperative Associations told the delegates the principle of cooperation was the merchandising of crops rather than "dumping" them; utilization by the producers of the practice of spreading sales over a longer period to increase returns and the prevention of high prices to consumers by obviating periods of scarcity. The success of organizations in handling tobacco and cotton in the South and dried

Viceroy on Tiger Hunt

Lord Reading, viceroy of India, is shown here after a successful tiger hunt on the estate of the Maharajah of Scindia who recently entertained the British official.

Journalism Mr. Teague obtained from acting Chairman Jones tentative permission to file the statement at the conclusion of his testimony, probably tomorrow.

Questions put by Mr. Roe at today's hearing related largely to the domestic and foreign business of the company, the operation of its pipelines, its refineries and its ships. The committee counsel also was much interested in the ownership of the corporations stock and in reply to questions the witness gave a detailed statement of the stock ownership.

Only six stockholders held one per cent. or more of the company's stock as of June 30, 1922," Mr. Teague testified. "There six share holders own a total of 28.4 per cent. of the company's common stock. The largest individual owner of common stock is Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., with 11.4 per cent. Three of the remaining five common stock holders on the list owning together ten per cent. of the common stock are philanthropic institutions such as the Rockefeller Foundation and the General Education Fund. It may be of interest to the committee to know that Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Sr., has not been a shareholder in the company since 1920 and that the late Mr. William Rockefeller owned only 700 shares at time of his death."

Other questions brought from the witness the amount of crude oil and gasoline held in storage, prices paid for crude oil and costs of transportation and refining.

BASEBALL WRITERS ENDORSE ACTION OF N. Y. CHAPTER

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—The Baseball Writers' Association of America, today endorsed the action of its New York chapter in refusing to recognize Ty Cobb's 1922 batting average as .401 because of alleged arbitrary action by Ban Johnson, president of the American League, in crediting the Detroit manager with a hit in a game here May 15 although the play was recorded as an error by the official scorer.

Sharply divided opinion on the question existed among the writers, the resolution of the New York chapter being supported by a chapter vote of four to three.

Dr. Kilen predicted "better days for the American farmer" through intensive development of foreign outlets aided by more effective producing and selling methods.

Carl Williams, president of the American Cotton Growers Exchange, said $250,000,000 would have been added to the buying power of cotton producers this year had they not been forced to "dump" their crop on the market. He added that since July 1920, more than 150,000 cotton growers had signed contracts in marketing associations.

Facts About the Standard Oil Of New Jersey

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Facts and figures in endless array concerning the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, its control, its operations and to a certain degree, its policies, were presented by Walter G. Teague, its president, to a Senate Manufacturers' sub-committee today at the resumption of the Senate-directed inquiry into prices and conditions in the oil industry.

Appearing as the first of the leaders in the American oil world which the sub-committee has summoned, Mr. Teague over a period of four hours was closely questioned by Gilbert E. Roe, of New York, counsel for the sub-committee.

The questions concerned the minutest details as to the operations of the company and were directed toward bringing out the exact cost of the major oil products and the extent of completion in the oil industry brought about the Supreme Court dissolution decree of 1911.

Mr. Teague for most of these questions had already answered and if some question of minor detail with which he was unfamiliar was put, called on a large staff of assistants who had accompanied him to Washington, bringing two voluminous files. The Standard of New Jersey's president at the start offered a prepared statement but was cut short by Chairman La Follette who announced the sub-committee had decided he should be questioned by the committee attorney. Questions asked by Mr. Roe during the course of the hearing, however, resulted in the placing of most of the statement into the committee record and just before ad-

CHINAMEN ARE TO BE DEPORTED

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 14.—Fourteen Chinamen, arrested several months ago by Federal prohibition agents during a liquor raid near Petersburg, today were ordered deported by Judge D. Lawrence Griner of the United States District Court, following their abandonment of appeals from the decision of United States Commissioner Melvin Flegenheimer some time ago.

Indirecting the deportation of the men, Judge Griner altered the order of the commissioner and directed that the aliens be returned to China instead of Cuba, from which country they are said to have entered the United States.

Only twelve of the men will be deported, at this time, according to federal officials, one of them being held on an indictment charging conspiracy and another as a material witness. Their cases will be heard at the January term of the federal court.

Eighteen Chinamen were arrested in the raid, but four of them made bond and have since disappeared. The four men charged with smuggling the party into this country are to be tried in January.

PARIS OFFERS NEW SPORTS COSTUMES

PARIS, Dec. 13.—The north wind doth blow and we shall have snow, and what will minkie do then?—if she hasn't a chic costume to wear at the fashionable sports which are already beginning to open their doors in Savoy and Switzerland?

Molyneux is showing most attractive models for skating. One is in cream, satin-faced cloth, trimmed with dark fur. The skirt is short basque, and the coat has a short basque, which stands out with a certain perkiness. It buttons close to the throat, under a fur collar. With it comes a close-fitting black velvet hat trimmed with fur. Another is in rich orange velvet, trimmed with silver-grey fur, silver buttons and silver soutache on a little Algerian coat which meets the full skirt. It, too, has a toque to match.

The Maison Dorat has an interesting collection of knitted costumes for skating and other sports. They have narrow, straight skirts and jaunty jackets, capes, and sometimes they are made into one-piece dresses. There is always a hat to match. A flamingo-red jacket and tiny round hat come with a gray skirt of mixed jersey de laine, cut in overlapping pieces, and both sides left open. A white silk turtleneck has a smart sweater embroidered in black, and an orange-colored one comes trimmed in black rabbit. Vivid colors are used, interspersed with an occasional gray or brown or beige for the conservative.

CO-OPS GATHER IN WASHINGTON FOR THREE-DAY MEETING

BY GEORGE H. MANNING
WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—A number of Virginia tobacco, peanut, and cotton men are attending the conference of the National Council of the Farmers Co-operative Marketing Association which met here today for a three-day session.

The Virginians are interested chiefly in tobacco, though there are several peanut and cotton growers here from the eastern part of the state.

At tonight's session the conference heard James C. Stone, president-manager of the Hensley Tobacco Growers, of Kentucky, on co-operative tobacco marketing. President Stone told the national gathering all about the origin and organization of the Kentucky growers. He said that prior to the war, marketing under the old "dumping system" as he called it, rendered the grower helpless as to time of sale, grading and price of his product. All their tobacco, he said, was thrown on the markets in the two months of January and February. During the war prices mounted until 1919 the average for the whole harvest crop was about 40 cents. The speaker asked just what happens to any set of men who come into sudden wealth; dissipation of the proceeds in extravagance, and the planting of a larger crop than in 1920. The next thing, labor became scarce and high and weather turned bad, affecting the crop adversely and finally on top of all price drop from 40 cents in 1919 down to 12 and 14 cents. With the condition into which the growers were thus suddenly plunged, the speaker pointed out that in times of adversity the tobacco manufacturer nets larger profits than in times of prosperity, for the reason that little men use more tobacco in such periods and damage to buy it even though they stop buying other more necessary things.

To get control of the market for their product, the farmers organized the Co-operative, set up their own warehouses and now are doing well.

The American Tobacco Growers Exchange comprising all the tobacco co-operative organizations, will hold group and committee meetings tomorrow morning.

Morning Session
Virginia's interest in the National Council of Farmers Co-operative Marketing Association in conference here for three days, comprising chiefly tobacco, though peanut and cotton men are here from the eastern part of the state.

Oliver J. Sands, president of the American National Bank of Richmond, one of the delegates representing the Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association of Virginia and the Carolinas, of which he is president, was assigned at the opening of the session to the committee on membership and another most important committee, that relating to adequate rural credits.

This subject of credits is in acute form. In June, 1923, the War Finance Corporation ceases to function, and if in the meantime some machinery for the extension of credits to the Co-operatives would be serious indeed, however, there is no question but Congress is in the mood to pass a Rural Credit Bill such as the farmers want, and the only questions remaining to be determined relate to details. The committee of which Mr. Sands was made a member will have a conference with the Senate Committee having the matter in charge. Congress is understood to be lined up for a real rural credit measure, to be passed at this session.

It was said today that the Co-operatives have not called upon the War Finance Corporation for any very considerable amount, but the value it renders is that private bankers know it is in existence, prepared to lend. It has constituted a "backlog" in the financing of the Co-operative bodies.

President Sands said today that the Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association, of Virginia and the Carolinas would make an encouraging report to the meeting. Success he said had been far beyond the expectations of the promoters of the movement. Difficulties exist here and there, he admitted, but they were by no means such as to discourage.

The official list of attendants on the conference contains the following from Virginia: Oliver J. Sands, R. R. Patterson and T. C. Watkins, of Richmond, representing the Tobacco Growers; E. N. De Peneler, Norfolk, W. J. Story, Courtland, and James T. Gillette, Courtland, representing the Peanut Growers; and John R. Hutchison, Blacksburg, director of extension work, and J. S. Darrow, Brockville, district agent. Other delegates probably are here but not registered.

IRELAND WOULD COLLECT TAXES NOW IN ARREARS

DUBLIN, Dec. 14.—The Irish income tax is raising several interesting problems. During the fight with the English, the order went forth that no Irishman should pay income tax to the British. It was difficult to collect it, therefore, and large arrears remained outstanding. When the Treaty was made, the British assigned to the Irish government all the Irish arrears of income tax as an asset. Unless these arrears are paid the deficit of the Irish government will be considerably increased.

But there is now great hesitation about paying. People say it is hard enough to pay one year's income tax without adding arrears which they were invited not to pay, and have since spent. The suggestion has been made by a responsible financier that the pre-Truce income tax should be wiped out. But the Irish government's agreement with the British assumed certain burdens for which three arrears were a set-off, and if the arrears are not paid additional taxation will have to be imposed to meet these burdens. Appeals are made on the ground of patriotism and duty to the new government, but it seems evident that a large part of the arrears are now uncollectable.

The future of the Irish income tax is also attracting attention. There is a considerable class of well-to-do people who, although domiciled in Ireland, have property in the Free state. Hitherto all these people have paid income tax in one lump to the British government, but now it is feared that they may have to submit to a double income tax. It is a grievance familiar in the dominions, and an agitation is on foot to relieve these taxpayers from a repetition of that grievance in Ireland.

Demand For Help Increases Over Country

By J. C. ROYLE.
NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—The great industrial plants of the country are still sending out SOS calls for labor, skilled and unskilled, and this demand for workers will be intensified after January 1. The migratory workers released from the armistice and other pursuits have been pretty well rounded up but efforts still are being made to entice unskilled hands from the South and west to the mills and factories.

These efforts are being vigorously combated by these localities which are men for their own business and agriculture programs, and with considerable success. Reports of a general exodus of negro labor from the South to the steel mills have been greatly exaggerated. Several thousand negroes have moved north at the instance of labor recruiting agents, attracted by high wages, but these, according to Southern State authorities today have come from isolated sections of the cotton belt which have been devastated by the boll weevil. The workers taken, according to disinterested residents of the North and other Southern points today, are unsuitable for other than farm labor in the South and no Southern industrial enterprises have been hampered by their departure. Planters asserted that the movement was an annual happening and that the negroes are expected to return to the cotton fields in the spring and summer.

Strong efforts to increase the supply of white arsenic will be made as a result of the meeting held in this city between government officials, producers of arsenic and manufacturers of insecticides. White arsenic is the basis from which calcium arsenate is made, large quantities of which will be required to combat the ravages of the boll weevil in the Southern States. At present the amount of arsenic available is sufficient to allow for the spraying of only a small percentage of the total area which will be planted to cotton in 1923. Arsenic is on the free list, but the amount recently imported has been small.

Railroad equipment corporations now are preparing bids on 78 new freight engines and other equipment for the Union Pacific Railroad which will involve expenditure of nearly $6,000,000 and about 50 engines for the Chicago and Northwestern. A million dollar order for cast iron pipe for shipment to Porto Rico has been awarded to Bethlehem Iron Works and other big steel and iron orders are known to be pending. The New York Central is figuring on new equipment for 1923 which is expected to include 35,000 freight cars.

Reports from canners throughout the country indicate that the demand for cans for food products the coming season will be well in excess of the present year. Recent reports of Canadian breweries show that in general those companies are enjoying extreme prosperity. This, it is asserted, is due in some measure to the operation of the Volstead law in the United States.

Heavy sales of tobacco continue in nearly every section and leaf tobacco now being sold by growers is bringing excellent prices. The demand for jewelry by holiday buyers is growing steadily. Sales of furs and winter clothing have taken a decided jump in a score of cities this week. Radio sets and equipment are moving briskly in the South and west, but the demand in the eastern states is not so heavy as it was early in the autumn.

Possible changes in American foreign relations which would tend to open foreign markets more freely to American products will be appreciatively received by farmers, according to Governor Henry J. Allen, of Kansas, who is here today. Reports concerning more active participation in European affairs already have had a stimulating effect on the attitude of grain and livestock growers as well as the cotton planters.

Brakes Jammed On Late Season Sales and Deals

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Major League baseball magnates in joint session today jammed the brakes on late season sales and deals and thus checked, for a time at least, the outcry against the "buying of pennants." This was accomplished by the passing of a rule which prevents the transferring of players from one club to another in the major leagues without a waiver process after June 15. Heretofore such deals were possible up to August 1. Under the new regulation the manager of a team which by June 15 is not a strong pennant contender cannot increase the playing strength of his club except by purchase of players from the minor leagues.

To offset this rule, the clubs next season will be permitted to carry a roster of forty players up to June 15 instead of May 15 and the additional month will enable them to experiment and ascertain the value of younger players who heretofore have been shunted back to the minors unless they flashed sterling form during the first month of the season. A club's effort to increase the maximum number of players permitted any one club previous to June 15 from 40 to 50 was lost after the National League had voted in favor of it and the American against it. When the minor league lands are not available, however, major league clubs heretofore will be permitted to have 15 players out under option in place of eight but the proposal, to permit a player being held under option for three years in place of two was defeated.

The new rule also changes the fine code governing the regulation of the National and American Leagues from the standpoint of the fan in that they effect the distribution of playing strength once the pennant races are slung around out of the season. Several other alterations were made in the code but they had more to do with the technical and executive side of the game.

It was decided that the draft rules should be amended to permit the drafting season to commence the first day of the world series each year and that the draft meeting shall be held in the city where the first world series game is played. The waiver rules were changed to provide that a club asking waivers on a player and then withdrawing such waiver request must do so within 48 hours after notice of claim or forfeit right to such player.

It was also resolved that the major and minor league meetings should be held in Chicago the second week of December. Commissioner Landis was empowered, in case of emergency to call for a ball vote on any matter, thus expediting legislation.

The so-called barnstorming situation which resulted in the suspension of Babe Ruth and other players early last season was remedied by the remedied by the adoption of a rule that no players shall participate in exhibition games after October 31 and that all future contracts between players and clubs shall contain this provision.

World series regulations came in for considerable discussion and it was provided that in future Commissioner Landis and the president of some official of the home club should decide when weather or ground conditions were suitable for a game. Once the game was started however, the right to suspend, postpone, or call such game would rest entirely with the umpires.

The compensation to umpires in such world series games was changed from a percentage of the player's share to a flat sum of $2,000 each per series. Last fall under the percentage plan the umpires received about $1,500 each.

ONE-YEAR RULE MAY SPLIT THE S. I. A. A.—MANY DISSATISFIED

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 14.—(By The Associated Press).—The first season under which members of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association have played football without the use of freshmen on their teams has resulted in building up strong reserves for next year but has weakened the 1922 eleven in the opinion of a number of representatives of universities and colleges compiled to fight over the association's meeting in the Greenville, S. C. Prospects that the question of freshmen players will make the convention one of the liveliest ever held and predictions that it might even cause the dissolution of the association were forecast in statements from several institutions, particularly from among those with the smaller student bodies.

As far as this institution is concerned the continuance of the one-year rule means that we withdraw from the S. I. A. A. the expressions from J. A. Edwards, of the University of Chattanooga, "We cannot live up to it and play anything like college football."

The question has about resolved itself into this situation: either we must give up the S. I. A. A. or abolish athletics," said R. M. Briggman, chairman of the athletic board of the University of Louisville, who added that he was not in the least disheartened by the situation.

"As for next year," he said, "we certainly play freshmen" came from Frank Anderson, athletic director at Oglethorpe University, who pointed out the student body of this institution was only 205 this year, including 25 freshmen.

On the other hand, the University of the South (Sewanee) which has one of the smallest student bodies of any institution in the association voiced the opinion through W. H. Mackellar, faculty chairman of athletics that it was doubtful if Sewanee will play freshmen on its varsity teams in future even if the association abolished the one-year rule. There have been fewer failures in class work among freshmen, too, he said, as a result of men of this class trying to make the team.

LIQUOR AND K. K. K. Loom Up Large

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Dec. 13.—Prohibition enforcement and the Ku Klux Klan loomed tonight as important subjects for discussion at the fourteenth annual conference of the governors which will open tomorrow. This was indicated as state executives arrived in preparation for the meeting.

Although no discussion of the liquor laws or their application is listed on the official program, Governor Parker of Louisiana announced that he intended to inject the question into the conference at the first opportunity. He referred to President Harding's intention to summon a meeting of the governors in Washington next month to discuss prohibition enforcement and declared the question should be taken up by the governors here. In January he pointed out state legislatures would be meeting and the governors in many cases would be required at their own capitals.

Governor Parker made it plain that he intended to confer with Governor Henry J. Allen, of Kansas who is listed to speak on "the Ku Klux Klan, the problem it attacks and the problem it creates" and with Governor Olcott of Oregon who is expected to deliver an address on "American drift" and indicated that he would supplement their discussions of the secret organization with suggestions for curbing what he termed its "un-Americanism."

Messages received by Miles C. Riley of Madison, Wisconsin, secretary of the conference show that the chief executives of at least half of the states will attend the gathering. Among the questions to be discussed in the three days conference, Mr. Riley said, are the Klan taxation and his way construction, involving possibly the obtaining of cheaper cement from abroad.

POPULAR BLUFF, Mo., Dec. 14.—Dwight H. Brown, of Popular Bluff, edits and manages a daily newspaper with his ears and memory.

Although not totally blind, Brown's eyesight failed him when he was eight years old, forcing him to leave school. His vision never returned sufficiently for him to read anything except large headlines on newspapers. He cannot distinguish features of persons farther than six feet away, but he has a most unusual memory. Each day his secretary reads items of interest from exchanges, calling the page and column of the paper when reading them. It is not unusual for Brown to ask for items in a certain paper many weeks later, specifying the page, column and date where the item may be found.

While a reporter in the lower House of the Missouri State Legislature during the Forty-first General Assembly, speech which one of the senators delivered was lost. A record of it could be found. Brown arose and delivered the speech, virtually word for word, as the Representative had delivered it. The feat created a sensation in the House, and all marveled at Brown's wonderful memory.

Brown writes his editorials on a typewriter but never reads them, because he cannot read small print. Proofreaders in his plant of the Daily American declare he seldom makes an error in typing news or editorials.

Brown obtained his education from his stepmother, who procured the proper literature and read and taught him at night.

There is a liberal education in well-chosen literature," Brown said recently, "provided a person thinks while he reads. Do not read too fast. Take your time and absorb everything you read, and your vision will become broader and your intellect greater."

CAROLINA WILL PLAY 13 GAMES OF BASKET-BALL

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 14.—North Carolina State this season will play one of the lightest basketball schedules in the history of the institution, only thirteen games being arranged, according to an announcement of officials today.

Five of the contests will be played here and eight in foreign universities. Trinity, Wake Forest, Elon, Guilford, Davidson, Wofford, Furman and North Carolina University will be the opponents.

The season will open with Trinity at Durham on January 20 and close with the Methodists here on February 24.

In addition to the numerous other attractions staged each winter at the city auditorium, all the road shows booked for Raleigh this year will be presented in the municipal building, it was stated.

This means the Tech players must confine their practice to the wholly inadequate Y. M. C. A. court at the college, and the makers of the schedule have found it very hard to arrange home games without conflict with other attractions. For this reason, Graduate Manager J. W. Harrellson has scheduled only thirteen games.

The schedule follows:
January 20—Trinity at Durham.
February 3—Wake Forest at Raleigh.
February 7—Elon at Elon College.
February 10—Guilford at Guilford College.
February 13—Davidson at Davidson.
February 17—Wofford at Spartanburg.
February 20—Furman at Greenville.
February 24—Trinity at Durham.
February 27—Wake Forest at Wake Forest.
February 28—Carolina at Chapel Hill.
February 29—Carolina at Raleigh.
February 30—Trinity at Raleigh.

WAKE FOREST WORK
HIGHLY ENDORSED

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Dec. 14.—The outstanding feature of the Baptist State convention was the final settlement of the controversy concerning Wake Forest College by the unanimous adoption of a resolution endorsing Wake Forest and President William Louis Poteet.

The resolution came from the resolution being offered by W. C. Meadows, pastor of the W. C. Meadows church in Wilkes county, one of the leading ministers of the work.

A THREE DAYS'
COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified cod liver oil, which is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membrane and kills the germ. Of all known drugs, creomulsion is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to cod liver oil, healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membrane and stop the irritation while the cod liver oil goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchitis, asthma, bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung disease, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.—adv.

How quickly Resinol is clearing up that eczema
That's the Point! The moment Resinol touches an itching, burning skin, the suffering usually stops. A few days' persistent treatment rarely fails to clear away the inflammation and soreness and finally restores the skin to its natural healthy condition.

Resinol Soap and Resinol Shaving Stick contain the same soothing properties and are used by discriminating men who like their complexion, cleansing lather and wholesome Resinol fragrance.

At all druggists.

Consiliation On Part Of Turkey Is Shown At Meet

LAUSANNE, Dec. 14.—(By The Associated Press).—Although Turkey was conciliatory today on the great question of accepting some form of supervision from without on the general treatment of the Christian populations inhabiting Turkey, she proved adamant in insisting upon the deportation from Constantinople of the supreme patriarch of the Greek Orthodox Church.

This is one of the most important issues of the Lausanne conference. Around it surge all the historical and religious differences between Christianity and Mohammedanism. Since the Turks consider Constantinople their sacred city they resent that its walls should surround the permanent seat of the pontiff of the Greek Christian Church; they maintain that Athens or Rome, some other avowedly Christian center should be chosen as his place of residence.

At the meeting of the sub-commission on the exchange of populations, somewhat diffidently brought up the question of the Greek patriarch, knowing full well the dangers surrounding any discussion of this delicate religious problem. Immediately the Ottoman representative arose and insisted that the patriarch must go, because he had been mixing in politics to the detriment of the Ottoman state.

A debate of considerable asperity ensued. The Greek delegate warned the sub-commission that Greece would never agree to the deportation of the patriarch and insisted that the patriarch must go, because he had been mixing in politics to the detriment of the Ottoman state.

Although there are five orthodox patriarchs in the Orient, it is the patriarch who has always been given the rank of primate, because he has resided for centuries in the ancient capital of the Byzantine Empire.

When the probable return of Constantinople to the Turks was announced at Athens, the Greek delegate in Asia Minor, the greatest excitement arose among the Athenians, who foresaw the possibility of the patriarch's deportation. Former Premier Venizelos has received countless messages from devout Greeks imploring him to make no surrender of the issue of the patriarch.

By announcing today her intention of joining the League of Nations as soon as peace is signed at Lausanne, Turkey virtually admitted she would accept the League of Nations' supervision over the Christian populations in Turkey.

The sub-commission for the study of the future administration of the straits of the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus is already making progress today's developments, despite the Turks' implacability on the question of the patriarch and the exchange of populations, has created the impression that peace really will be signed at Lausanne.

LAMBERT WAS ELECTED PRES.

WINCHESTER, Va., Dec. 14.—George A. Lambert of Rural Retreat, was elected president of the Virginia Division of the Farmers' Co-operative and Educational Union at the closing session of its annual meeting here today. He succeeds A. B. Thornhill, of Appomattox, who declined re-nomination.

C. M. Luttrell, of Fauquier, was chosen vice president and George H. Boyles of Lynchburg was unanimously elected secretary and treasurer.

Selection of the place for holding the 1935 convention was left to the executive committee with the chances favoring Richmond.

Jobs Are Again
Plentiful In U. S.

(Special to The Bee.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—America has taken a running start on its predicted 1935 climb to the high seat in the bandwagon of General Prosperity.

Unemployment has ceased to exist in a number of states, and the total number of jobs in the country is the smallest at any time since the after the war slump of 1921. In August of that year, there were 5,735,000 workers out of jobs.

With transportation handicaps removed, credit facilities smoothed and public confidence restored, it is predicted that 1935 will enjoy a wave of general prosperity.

Such is the verdict of Francis J. Jones, chief of the unemployment section of the U. S. Department of Labor, following his December survey of employment conditions.

Expansion of employment during the last month has been the greatest for any period this year, says Jones. "Further extension was prevented only by inadequate rail transportation. Car shortage hampered lumbering in Washington and Oregon, and mining in many states. Increased production is indicated in the iron and steel industry, textiles, automobiles, mining, oil, etc."

AMERICA SHOULD
HEED CHALLENGE
FROM EUROPE

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Dec. 14.—"America should heed the challenge of Europe in two respects, first nationally and second religiously," Dr. E. Y. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist convention declared here today in an address before the State Baptist Convention.

Dr. Mullins spoke of "The challenge of Europe to America" and told of the difficulties, political and religious, through which he said Europe is passing.

"The challenge of Europe to our nation is, first of all the challenge of world unity," he said. "The world today is a unit in many respects. We cannot live an isolated life. European affairs are world affairs. America cannot live for herself alone. We are bound to take part in world affairs."

"Secondly the challenge of Europe to America, is the challenge to finish an unfinished task. The moral obligations which led us in the world war is still hanging."

"It is a challenge growing out of a new European crisis. It is also the challenge of our destiny. We ought to enter the field and exert our influence."

"Again it is a challenge to American Christians and especially to American Baptists. We have the spiritual antidote for corrupt forms of European Christianity. Moreover, diplomacy has failed in its plans and purposes, and recognizes the difficulties involved, because it is impossible to re-make Europe unless the human heart can be re-made and our religion alone can re-make the human heart."

GROSS ELECTED HEAD

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Robert H. Gross of Boston, head of the New River Coal Company of West Virginia was today elected president of the Smokeless Coal Operators' Association of West Virginia.

Representative Yates, Republican, Illinois, declared that Keller's course was "a grandstand play, so staged and intended. Set out for me to proceed any more in this hearing. Nor do I expect to present any more evidence. I am through with you unless I can present this statement."

"That is just exactly what we expected of you from the start," declared Volstead. Mr. Keller gave us a subpoena for Mr. Keller and let the present attorneys serve it on him. He is insulting this committee and trying to run it to suit himself."

Attorney Ralston then announced that in view of the contents of the letter submitted by Mr. Keller there is nothing for me to do but withdraw my appearance from the committee, which I do, thanking you for your personal courtesy to me."

KELLER WITHDRAWS
FROM DAUGHTER-
TY HEARING

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Representative Keller, of Minnesota, refused late today to participate further in the hearings before the House Judiciary Committee on the impeachment charges brought by him against Attorney General Daugherty. Characterizing the hearings as a "comic opera performance," he declared he would be untrue to his responsibility as a member of the House if he assisted further in "a barefaced attempt to whitewash Harry M. Daugherty."

Immediately after he announced his withdrawal, the committee in open session and without leaving its place voted to go on with the hearings to subpoena Mr. Keller as a witness, put him under oath and question him as to the basis for his charges of high crimes and misdemeanors against the Attorney General. Later he was summoned formally by the House sergeant-at-arms to appear before the committee at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

This turn in the progress came with dramatic suddenness and was attended by a tumult and uproar seldom witnessed in a Congressional committee room. After absenting himself, much of the day, Mr. Keller appeared and handed a typewritten statement in his hand and announced he desired to read it to the committee. He was refused the opportunity but later made public the statement which dealt in detail with his reasons for refusing to go on and subpoenaed to demand that the committee favorably report his resolution to the House so that he might present his evidence "to an unbiased committee in the proper way."

"I reiterate now," the statement said, "that any possession of evidence ample to prove Harry M. Daugherty guilty of all the high crimes and misdemeanors with which I have charged him."

Mr. Keller came into the committee room after a brief suspension of the hearing, requested by Jackson S. Ralston, counsel for Mr. Keller, so that he might confer with the Minnesota representative. When Mr. Keller asked to be heard, Paul Howland, counsel for Mr. Daugherty, demanded that the committee proceed with the hearing in the regular order agreed upon unless Mr. Keller desired to give testimony in which event he should be sworn.

Announcing that he did not have to be sworn, Mr. Keller said his statement had to do with the "conduct of this hearing," and he demanded the right to read it.

"Is it your object to lecture the committee?" inquired Representative Goodkykoontz, of West Virginia. "I may," was the response.

The chief counsel of a general husband in which Chairman Volstead broke in with a direction to Mr. Keller to "sit down."

"I refuse to sit down," shouted the member. "I want to read this letter and I submit it to you now." He went on to read a letter to Mr. Volstead's desk upon which he laid the letter.

"Look here," shouted the chairman, "you haven't any right to control this proceeding; the committee controls it."

Mr. Keller insisted upon being heard, he was again ordered by Mr. Volstead to take his seat.

"Do you refuse to hear me?" shouted Mr. Keller.

"Well, we will have you sworn—You can't bully this committee," he returned.

"It is improper for you to say that," rejoined Mr. Keller. "I will say to you now that if I cannot be heard on this statement I refuse to proceed any more in this hearing. Nor do I expect to present any more evidence. I am through with you unless I can present this statement."

"That is just exactly what we expected of you from the start," declared Volstead. Mr. Keller gave us a subpoena for Mr. Keller and let the present attorneys serve it on him. He is insulting this committee and trying to run it to suit himself."

Rankin Asserts
Farm Bloc Can
Not Be Delivered

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Denouncing reports he said had been circulated that the "farm bloc" had deserted Henry Ford in the House, Representative Rankin, Republican, Mississippi, declared in the House today that no man was able to deliver the vote of the farm bloc. He was answered by Representative Kearns, Republican, Ohio, a member of the military committee, who said the farm bloc was "misleading to the American people."

Mr. Rankin referred to a bill introduced by Representative Dickinson, Republican, Ohio, advocating operation of Muscle Shoals by a government-controlled concern, said the world had gone out that Mr. Dickinson's action had meant "that the farm bloc was behind was the plan."

Mr. Rankin said he had been unable to find anyone who had been consulted by Mr. Dickinson before the introduction of his bill. He charged the Alabama Power Company and the "fertilizer trust" had opposed the bill after the manner of the "fertilizer trust."

Representative Kearns, replying to Mr. Rankin, said misleading information had been going out as to the Ford offer since its inception. Advocates of the Ford plan, he said, had sought to "gain the sympathy of the farm bloc by telling them Ford would use the electric organization for the manufacture of cheaper fertilizer."

"Ford has not agreed to make one pound of fertilizer unless he can do it at a profit," said Mr. Kearns. "Even then he only agrees to use one tenth of the great power in manufacturing it."

Mr. Kearns also charged that a "false message to the American people" was put out when it was asserted that Ford intended to repay the government for its expenditures at Muscle Shoals.

"Ford has not agreed to give the power the government gives him," he said. "He intends to use the power for carrying on a manufacturing plant for profit," he said.

WOMEN WARNED
BY GEN. PERSHING

BOSTON, Dec. 14.—Addressing the Women's Republican Club of Massachusetts today General John J. Pershing said "dangerous elements are moving toward a revolution in America," both openly and secretly and that because national problems have not been thoroughly discussed, "there have been open in many women's clubs, these undermining and disruptive tendencies toward radicalism of all sorts." "The disease which strikes but at constitutional governments," he added, was one of these tendencies.

"As we look out on the world today," General Pershing said, "we find complicated situations in middle Europe, in the Near East and in the Orient. The nations lately at war seem ready to fly at each other's throats and a war more terrible than the last is openly predicted. Suspicion, jealousy and hatred are followed by repudiation, calumny and threats of war. It is not inconceivable that a America might again take up arms in defense of the principles of liberty and justice which inspired our action in 1917. It would be simply folly for us now to revert to our proverbial ill-will."

"It is surprising that any of our people should be so blindly minded as to think that complete disarmament on our part could induce other nations to follow. As a matter of fact, we were practically disarmed in 1917 and we were quiet alone."

To our many patrons and friends: We are now located in our new home, at 320 Loyal street, with lots of new machinery, and plenty of good help. We can serve your every want for the Christmas holiday washing. Our one-day service for travelling men and parties leaving town for the holidays is great. Mrs. Housewife, let us do your family washing for you next week while you do the shopping for the little ones. Our prices for this work are far cheaper than you can get it done by the washerwomen. We wash your blankets, flannels and silks with Ivory soap. Our rough dry wash at 8c per pound with the flat work ironed is growing week by week. This is a wonderful service to the housewife, where she prefers to do her own ironing at home. Our business is to serve the public. Telephone 1220-1658 for the wagon.

AUCTION SALE OF FURNITURE

Advertised for Thursday, Dec. 14th postponed on account of weather to Saturday, December 16th at 3 p. m.

ANTIQUE FURNITURE CO.

HARDWARE

BOSTON, Dec. 14.—Owing to the practice of many hardware manufacturers and tool-makers in New England of taking inventories at this time, many orders are being held over until January 1.

FRUIT

FORT WORTH, Dec. 14.—The first of the new strawberry crop of the southwest is just reaching the market. This breaks a record in point of time.

LUMBER

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 14.—Wisconsin lumber men reported today that freezing temperatures already have permitted to icing of the roads so timber can be skidded out. With the favorable early start production is expected to be double that of last year.

POTTERY

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 14.—As a result of the ending of the strike pottery plants are working today under pressure of accumulated orders. Resumption was too late to meet the Christmas demand but buying for later delivery is liberal.

FRUIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14.—An unexpected demand for apples has made its appearance from South and Central America, from Mexico and the Orient. This demand is clearing the market of small sizes but storage warehouses are full today.

LEATHER

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 14.—The demand for belting butts is the feature of the leather market here today. Hides and skins have weakened and the market for leathers is quiet during the inventory period. Shoe manufacturers are placing some orders for glazed kid and calfskin for spring styles.

RICE

BEAUMONT, Texas, Dec. 14.—Prices asked at recent rice sales attended by mill owners from Texas and Louisiana were generally satisfactory to growers. The range was between $3.55 a bag and $3.75 a bag.

STEEL

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 14.—A large tonnage of pig iron is selling. Price concessions are tempting buyers. Bessemer is 65 cents at $29. Valley, and basic $1 at $25 valley. Small lots of foundry are offered at $26. While plates, shapes and bars are generally quoted at $2, desirable ones could be placed at a shade lower. Tendency is towards lower prices. Heavy melting scrap is quoted around $20.50. Demand is irregular.

SUGAR

GALVESTON, Dec. 14.—For the first time since the war, importation of beet sugar seed from Holland, Germany and other European countries has been resumed.

FURS

ST. PAUL, Dec. 14.—St. Paul fur manufacturers and wholesalers report a good volume of orders for immediate delivery and bookings for spring have been ahead of those recorded last year.

RICE

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 14.—The Louisiana rice growers have secured a loan of $500,000 to aid them in marketing their crop.

NOTICE

The death of Mrs. Bettie Mills Hooper, at her residence, 527 Patton St., Danville, Va. The funeral services will be held at three o'clock, Sunday afternoon, at the Nazarene Baptist Church. All friends invited.

POTTERY PLANTS AGAIN WORKING TOP SPEED

BY GUY L. ROCKWELL

CLEVELAND, Dec. 14.—Plants of the pottery trade throughout Ohio which resumed operations last week after a ten-week wage dispute again are working at top speed. The United States potters' Association refused a demand for a 7 per cent. increase and the workers returned, pending further wage negotiations. Akron tire manufacturers are increasing tire output and are building up heavy finished stocks in anticipation of brisk spring demand. Additions to the General Tire Company's plants are being rushed. They will increase the output from 2,500 to 4,000 tires a day. A general advance in tire prices is anticipated January 1. Manufacturers, however, have not announced the extent of the advance. Goodyear employees are agitating a wage increase of 15 per cent. but company officials have taken no action so far.

WAGE INCREASE IN WEST COAST AFTER JAN. 1.

BY PAUL C. HEDRICK

SEATTLE, Dec. 14.—Wages of plasterers, bricklayers, hod-carriers and building laborers will be increased 10 to 20 per cent. in the Pacific Northwest January 1. Plasterers have been raised from $8 to $10 a day and are working on a five-day week basis. Bricklayers have had their wages raised from $8 to $9 a day on a tentative arrangement extending to January 1. Cities all over the coast are bidding against each other for these artisans. Tile-setters have been offered as high as $74 a week in Southern California cities.

TRUSTEES SALE OF VALUABLE RESIDENCE

Pursuant to the terms of a deed of trust to me from W. T. Swann, Jr., and wife, dated July 1, 1921, recorded in the Clerk's Office of the Corporation Court of Danville, in Deed book 113 at Page 249, default having been made in the debt therein secured and at the request of the beneficiary, I will sell, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 19, 1922, at 4 o'clock, P. M.

All of that certain parcel of land with all improvements thereon and all appurtenances thereto belonging, situate in the City of Danville, 1 1/2 miles State of Virginia, fronting fifty feet on the Western side of College Avenue, and running back therefrom between slightly converging lines, a distance of about three hundred feet, it being all of Lot No. 1 on the map of College place Lots, recorded in Deed book 82 at Page 174-5, and another lot in the rear thereof, running back to the line of E.
